

Five Moments of Learning Needs

1. When Learning for the First Time
2. When Wanting to Learn More
3. When Trying to Remember
4. When Things Change
5. When Something Goes Wrong

Conrad Gottfredson

Top 20 Japanese Smartphone Features

1. mobile wallet
2. MANGA on mobile
3. mobile check-in at airports
4. mobile keys for door
5. mobile employee badges
6. mobile cinema tickets
7. mobile transport passes
8. fingerprint authentication
9. face recognition/
authentication
10. mobile discount/promotion
coupons
11. scented phones
12. mobile fashion consultant
13. mobile live TV
14. wii-like mobile phones (motion-sensor)
15. physical bookmarks for mobiles
(shops)
16. privacy screens
17. 1D and 2D codes for marketing and
even on fruit and veg labels
18. mobile GPS navigation for pedestrians
19. electric wave posters (uses RFiD)
20. waterproof phones

Assessment and Learning in Practice Settings (ALPS)

- 9,000 students
- 16 subjects
- Assess competencies
- Encourage reflection
- Capture evidence of achievement

“Developing competence and confidence in a practice setting is vital for students training for a career in health and social care because there is a wide range of general and specific skills that can only be developed in the clinic, hospital or workplace.”

Rob Arnstsen

Language and Culture on iPod

- Arabic
- Chinese
- Russian
- Spanish

Spanish
Dialog

Chinese Vocabulary Lesson

Let's Test Your Knowledge

Question 1 of 3

What does this phrase mean?

sabah elkheyr

1. Good Morning (Formal Greeting)
2. Hello (Informal Greeting)
3. Goodbye

Arabic
Assessment

Swiss Army Knife of the 21st Century

“The convenience and pervasiveness of mobile devices is their main strength. Use this strength to reach your learners with information they need, store information your learners may need later, and get learners to complete tasks while going about their day-to-day lives.”

Leonard Low

NSA Certifying Units

- Secure Mobile Environment Personal Electronic Device
 - General Dynamics C4 Systems
 - L-3 Communications

General Dynamics' Sectera Edge looks like a typical handheld but is designed to meet NSA security requirements.
Image: Photo by General Dynamics

Available Tools

- Tools
- Test/Quiz
- Mobile Site
- Miscellaneous and Systems
- Communications
- Reference